

Bond Protector

Use an expert to protect your home loan debt

What would happen to your home if, for some reason, you were unable to pay your bond? This is essential to consider when buying a property so that you and your loved ones are covered should an unforeseen circumstance arise.

Reasons why you have a Bond Protector

- We cover your outstanding bond amount in the event of death, disability or dread disease.
- No medical information or testing required and everything can be finalised in one call.
- Immediate cover.
- Our cover is approved and automatically ceded to the bank.
- Our premiums never increase making your cover increasingly affordable over the duration of your bond term.
